Harold and Maude

Come enjoy this humorous film with several surprising life lessons amid a unique relationship between two eccentric people. Prepare to laugh out loud.

A cult favorite from 1972, Harold and Maude, directed by Hal Ashby (Coming Home, Being There), original script written by Colin Higgins (Foul Play), about the unlikely romance between a death-obsessed 19-year-old named Harold (Bud Cort) and a life-loving 79-year-old widow named Maude (Ruth Gordon).

Maude finds something oddly appealing about Harold, urging him to "reach out" and grab life by the lapels as opposed to dwelling morbidly on mortality. Harold grows fond of the old gal--she's a lot more fun than the girls his mother desperately matches him up with--and together they make Harold & Maude one of the sweetest and most unconventional love stories ever made.

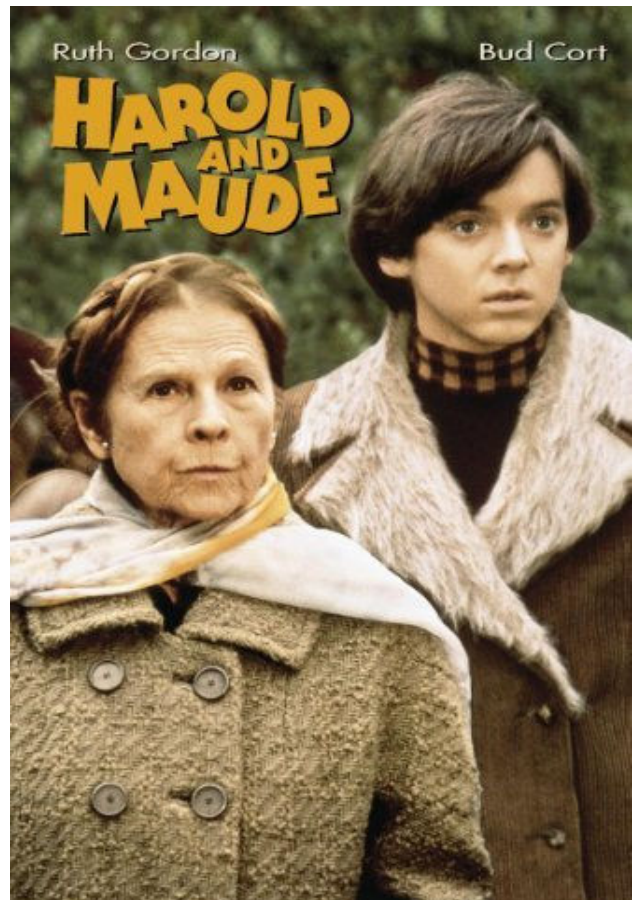

An outrageously funny and affecting film that proves love has no boundaries.

Featuring soundtrack songs by Cat Stevens.

Lisa Edinberg, Inspirational Author, will lead an informal discussion after the film.
